

ISV Legendia

The ISV Legendia is an Imperial scout vessel operating within the Gododdin system. The ship was dispatched by Knight-Castellan SIR AMALRIC OSMAN from Fort Din alongside a small fleet of outrider vessels to investigate the disappearance of the 116th and 337th Sagittarine Legions. The Legendia and its escort fleet were tasked with following the last known trajectory of the missing legion convoy, conducting deep space reconnaissance operations using micro-jumps and light-probe deployments across a nine light-year search radius. At the time of Lord Hadrian Marlowe's arrival at Gododdin, the scout vessel remained at warp speed on the far side of the search volume, with an expected return date of twenty-seven days.
